

discover nikkei

at the Japanese American National Museum

FROM ONE GENERATION TO THE NEXT Families Intersecting with History

SATURDAY, MAY 17 • 2 PM–4 PM

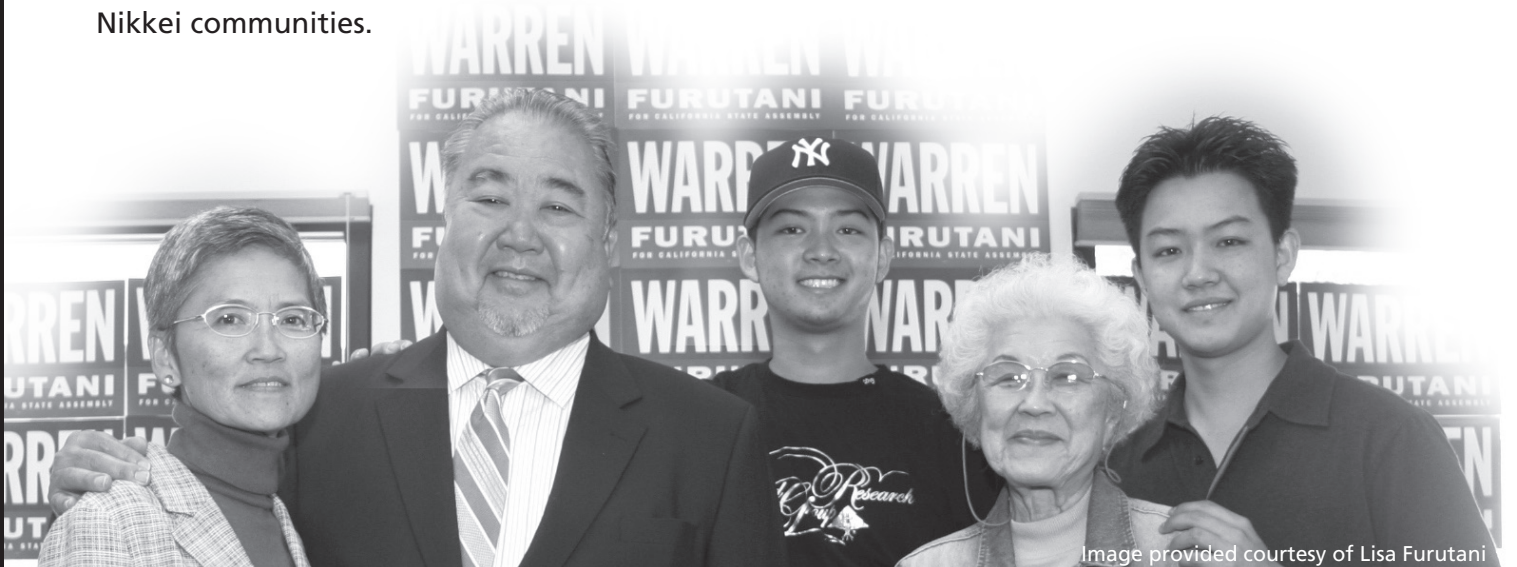

An inspiring interview with Aiko Herzig-Yoshinaga, with her daughter and son-in-law Lisa and Warren Furutani and their sons Joey and Sei, who share their involvement in the community from redress to public service to grass-roots organization. Moderated by Professor Mitchell Maki.

FREE with Museum admission. RSVP required to 213.625.0414 ext. 2227 or rsvp@janm.org (subject: Redress program – May 17).

For program details, visit DiscoverNikkei.org/forum/node/2409

This program is presented in conjunction with the National Museum's 2008 public program series—Redress Remembered: A Moment of National Redemption—which commemorates the 20th Anniversary of the Civil Liberties Act of 1988, Discover Nikkei, and Nikkei Community Day. Discover Nikkei, a project of the Japanese American National Museum, is made possible through the generous support of The Nippon Foundation.

Visit DiscoverNikkei.org for interviews, articles, and other resources about redress and Nikkei communities.
