A Flicker in Eternity & Out of Infamy: Michi Nishiura Weglyn

A Flicker in Eternity
26 min. documentary
by Ann Kaneko and Sharon Yamato

"A Flicker in Eternity" is a documentary that tells the true World War II story of Stanley Hayami, a talented young teenager caught between his dream of becoming an artist and his duty to his country. Based on Stanley's diary and letters archived at the Japanese American National Museum, this coming-of-age tale chronicles Stanley's life behind barbed wire and as a soldier who was part of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team. The film captures this young man's humor and imagination through endearing cartoons and witty observations that provide a firsthand look at the indignity of incarceration and the tragedy of war.

This 26-minute film, produced by Ann Kaneko and Sharon Yamato, received the Best Documentary Short at the Asians on Film Festival. The story was written by Joanne Oppenheim and Sharon Yamato, with voiceovers by actors Aaron Yoo (Stanley) and Amy Hill (older sister, Sach).

Michi Nishiura Weglyn's landmark book, Years of Infamy: The Untold Story of America's Concentration Camps, jumpstarted the redress and reparations movement for more than 120,000 people of Japanese descent, most of them American citizens, who had been forcibly removed from their homes and businesses during World War II to live in the barbed wire camps.
