

FREE Writing Workshop

Nikkei Names: Taro, John, Juan, João?

Date: Saturday, September 20, 2014

Time: 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Location: Wing Luke Museum

719 South King Street, Seattle, Washington, 98104
(between 7th and 8th Avenue South)

What's in a name? Discover Nikkei is a multilingual, global online resource that explores identity and community by sharing stories of Nikkei experiences from around the world.

Join us on Saturday, September 20 for a FREE writing workshop where you will explore the origins of Nikkei names and write about the meaning of your own name. This can include family names, given names, and even nicknames!

Visit <http://5dn.org/Seattle> for more details. Reservations recommended as seating is limited. For RSVP or questions, please contact at Editor@DiscoverNikkei.org.

Photo by Tara Austen Weaver

Writing Instructor:

Tamiko Nimura is a Sansei/Pinay writer who grew up in Northern California and now lives in Tacoma, Washington. She is a regular contributor to Discover Nikkei, Seattle Star, and the International Examiner. Before her freelance career, she taught writing and literature for ten years. She is currently working on a memoir involving her family's wartime incarceration in Tule Lake.

Co-sponsored & co-hosted by the Wing Luke Museum and the Japanese American National Museum.

Discover Nikkei is a community-based project of the Japanese American National Museum and is made possible through the generous support of The Nippon Foundation.

